Overview

CyWee is the market leader in wireless high definition video delivery and motion processing. We develop solutions that meet the highest of standards. Our management team is comprised of leading experts in the video and motion processing fields. As of Q3 2012, the company holds 241 patents (105 approved).

AirStream™ products empower our partners and customers to tackle the toughest challenges in content delivery. Wireless ICs from CyWee are being embedded into products such as smartphones, tablets, TVs, and projectors to help people share their personal content.

Based on research that started in 2003, CyWee's MEMS products are key in providing consumer products with a motion interface. Our motion products enable customers to deliver highly accurate, responsive, and cost-effective consumer solutions to the market.

Headquartered in Taipei, Taiwan, CyWee also has offices in Beijing and Hangzhou, China and Santa Clara, California. CyWee is funded by SoftBank China Venture Capital and Taiwan's Industrial Technology Research Institute (ITRI).
